SUPER-NATURAL BEAUTY

DIGITAL DESIGN FLOORS

Rhinofloor Evolution gives you the ability to enhance the quality of your home with a truly extraordinary Digital Design Floor.

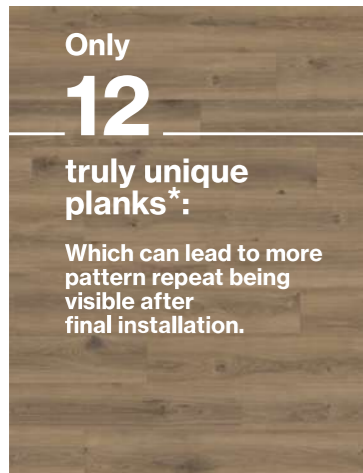

The first floor to use innovative, fully digital technology to achieve exceptionally high definition surface visuals, scanned from real natural materials, Rhinofloor Evolution showcases what we like to think of as 'Super-Natural Beauty.' High definition authenticity adds an unparalleled touch of class to your home with a natural looking and genuinely remarkable floor.

We have poured all of our creativity and technical expertise into Rhinofloor Evolution to give you a floor which not only looks exceptional but also will be easy to live with and stay looking as good as new for many years to come.

Design floors have evolved...

'Analogue' design floors produced in the usual way are limited in their capability to produce a natural looking visual.

Only 12 truly unique planks*:
Which can lead to more pattern repeat being visible after final installation.

This is why you would normally see the same features within the pattern appear several times in the same room.

Our Digital Design Floors are engineered on a grander scale. Using a pattern around four times the size of the 'standard'.

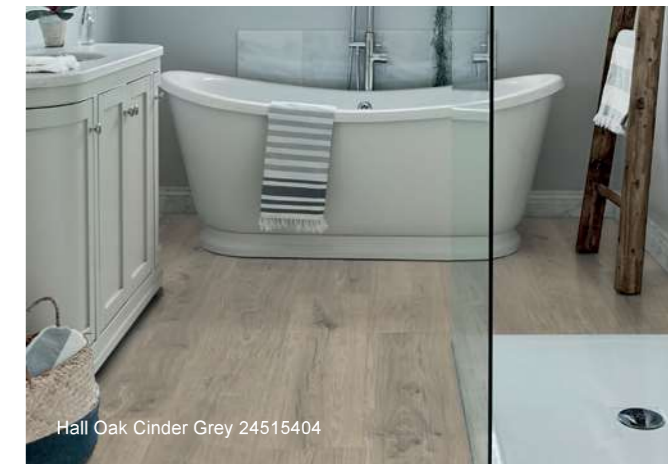

RHINOFLOOR EVOLUTION

Now 50 unique planks*:
Less pattern repeat for a more natural look.

...The secret of Super-Natural Beauty

All of our designs are expertly scanned from the natural materials, and now that they have 50 unique planks to work with, our artists have a bigger canvas on which to craft them more authentically. We can be more adventurous with the detail knowing that pattern repeat should not be an issue.

*RhinoFloor Evolution designs are made from a 12m² pattern. The 20 x 120cm plank format will have 50 unique planks. There are many different ways of cutting from the smaller, 'analogue' pattern that could yield more or less truly unique planks, however the smaller overall pattern means that characteristics within the design will be repeated more frequently across the finished floor.

Stampede proof

When you create something beautiful, you want to protect it.

The Super-Natural Beauty of Rhinofloor Evolution is safeguarded by our outstanding RhinoMatt protective surface. Not only super-matt like the natural materials we replicate, RhinoMatt is also more stain and scratch resistant than ever before.

Designed especially to cope with the rigours of family life, RhinoMatt ensures your floor is always as easy to clean as possible. And, whilst it perhaps would not quite withstand a stampede of rhinos, we understand that sometimes life at home can throw down some pretty tough challenges.

SUPER-NATURAL BEAUTY

We certainly do, and because of the perfectly detailed look and 'stampede proof' enhancements, your floor will remain remarkable for years to come.
